I would be pleased to be considered for the Communications Task Force.

Before becoming a resident of Rockville, I was one of the founders of western Maine's Rural Broadband Initiative and the author of a successful grant proposal to the Maine Community Foundation to perform a survey of high-speed Internet usage in the rural towns of Wilton and Farmington. Following that, I was appointed to Governor Baldacci in 2005 to the state Broadband Access Infrastructure Board, which issued recommendations including the creation of the ConnectMaine Initiative, which currently provides grants to startups and community programs in underserved parts of the state seeking to building infrastructure for data connectivity.

I am currently a member of the HOA Board for Rose Hill Falls and webmaster for its website (rosehillfalls.com).

I would like to know more about what is involved in serving on the Task Force.

Sincerely,

Sam Elowitch
